Area User's Guide

Clerin Emeryck – Dudot Lucas – Guillaume Robin – Drules Maximilien – Minguet Jules – manœuvre Lorenzo

Summary:

I.   __Introduction.__

The purpose of this document is to explain how to use the different functionalities of the Area 51 application. This guide is designed for both the web and the mobile version of the application. Through this document you will learn how to properly use Area 51.

II.   __Register & Login.__

a. __Register to Area 51.__

To access the Area 51 application, you will first need to create an account using the "Sign-up" form on the landing page of the app. You can also use an existing google account and skip this part. To create your account, an email, a username and a password are required, this information could be modified later in the application.

b. __Login to Area 51.__

There are 2 ways to login into the application. You can either login using your credentials if you have created an account or login with your Google account. If you choose the second option, you will reconnect automatically each time you go to the login page (unless you manually disconnect from the application).

III.   __Application overview__.

Here are the different pages that you can find in Area51:

- Home Page (web only): Landing page of the application.

- Dashboard Page: Manage your created AREAs and create new ones.

- Profile Page: Edit your personal information and register to services.

IV.   __Profile page.__

a. __Edit information.__

Using the corresponding form, you can edit your personal information, this include: your username, your email and your password, ect…

b. __Register to a service.__

In this section you can see the services you are registered to. You can also register to the other services, this registration will allow you to "unlock" new Triggers/Reactions which can be used in your AREAs

V.   __Create a new Area.__

You can create an AREA from the Dashboard page.
In order to do this, you will need to select an Action then a Trigere and a reaction.
Firstly, you need to choose an action.

To do so, use the search bar to select the service and then the trigger you want to use.

VI.   Create a new Area.

You can delete an existing AREA from the Dashboard page.

Go to the list of AREAs and click the bin button on the right of the AREA you want to remove from your list and it will be deleted!